Academic and Administrative Audit

2018-2021

INTRODUCTORY NOTE FROM THE AUDITORS

The Academic Audit, like more conventional program reviews, is a peer review process including a self-study and a site visit by peer members from outside the institution. Unlike the traditional approach to program evaluation, this process emphasizes self-reflection and self-improvement rather than compliance with predetermined standards. The purpose of an academic audit is to give poise to the departments or programs to weigh up their "educational quality processes" - the key faculty activities required to produce, assure, and regularly improve the quality of teaching and learning. An audit asks how faculty approach educational decision making and how they organize their work, using the resources available to them and working collegially to provide a quality education in the best interests of the discipline and student learning.

Academic audit is a scientific and systematic method of reviewing the quality of academic processes in the institution. It is related to quality assurance and enhancing the quality of academic activities in HEIs.

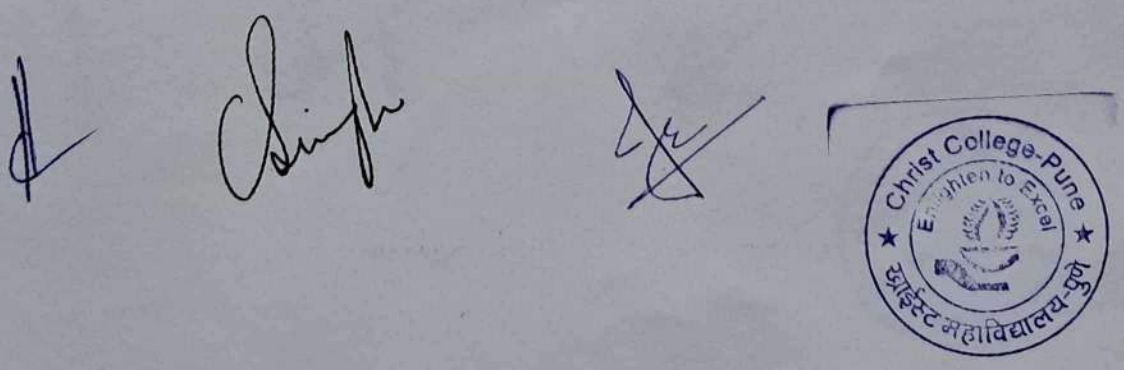

Administrative audit is a process of evaluating the efficiency and effectiveness of the administrative procedure. It includes assessment of policies, strategies & functions of the various administrative activities, control of the overall administrative system, etc.

The major objectives of the Academic and Administrative Audit are to understand the existing system and to assess the strength and weakness of the Academic Departments and the Administrative Units and to suggest the methods for improving and to overcome the weaknesses and to suggest the methods for continuous improvement of quality keeping in mind criteria and reports by NAAC and other bodies.
