Hi Deepa ma'am,

I am obliged to share this thought with you. A thought where students who do not have guidance regarding what to do after graduation, in where there are plenty of options. What to choose and what not to is always a question.
After having a work experience of almost 3 years in banking operations I have come across various scenarios and array of experiences which could be helpful for freshers.
Currently iam working with Goldman Sachs as a senior analyst in asset management division.
I will be privileged to have a small session with the students of no other than Christ family.

Please find the attached pointers on which the session would be highlighted.

Thank you
