Activity Report

Boulangerie Production and Management Workshop, organized by Nirmiti Start Up and Innovation Center in association with Father's Kitchen Cakes and Bake Classes was a highly successful event held for one week from 17th April to 22nd April 2023 at Christ College Punethe workshop aimed to provide participants with hands-on experience and valuable knowledge about the art of Production and management of Bakery Products. This report summarizes the key highlights, objectives, activities, and outcomes of the workshop.

The workshop included a range of activities designed to cater to participants of different skill levels. These activities included:

The workshop started with a comprehensive overview of baking essentials, including ingredient selection, measuring, and mixing techniques. Participants learned about the importance of precise measurements and temperature control in baking.

The hands-on portion of the workshop involved baking different types of cakes, including Crinkle Walnut Brownie, Mawa Cake, Anzac Cookies, Apple Pie, and Mango Mousse. Participants were guided through the entire baking process, from mixing the batter to frosting the finished cake.

Participants had the opportunity to taste their creations and share feedback with each other. This allowed for a sense of camaraderie and provided valuable insights into the flavors and textures of the cakes.

Feedback from participants was overwhelmingly positive. Common sentiments included appreciation for the knowledgeable instructors, the hands-on nature of the workshop, and the opportunity to learn and network with others who share a passion for baking.

Aims & Objectives:

- To educate participants about the fundamentals of baking.
- To teach various cake baking and decorating techniques.
- To promote creativity and innovation in cake decoration.
- To foster a sense of community among baking enthusiasts.

Activity Outcome:

The total number of 50 participants from all the faculties of Arts, Science and Commerce are benefited from the session.

EVENT REPORT

On the 3rd of March 2023, the Department of Management held the first ever Market Square event. Students of BBA, BBA (IB) and BCA from all three years took part in the event. Each class was divided into 3 groups, which means there were a total of 27 groups competing with each other for the ultimate prize of 10,000 rupees.

It was an absolute honor that the teachers trusted me (Julia Henderson [sybba]) to organize this event with the help of the co-student coordinators Shawn Coutinho(sybba), Chirag Kadam(tybca) and of course our team of class leaders. With less then 2 weeks in hand and a fixed budget, it was an absolute rush to plan this event.

The first thing we did was allot each class with one class leader and each group with one leader, which gave us a total of 27 groups leaders and 9 class leaders. The class leader would be in charge of all the three groups in that respected class. They would be the middlemen between the student coordinates and group leaders. After everyone was allotted, they duties we went on to pick the theme for market square. Being management students we wanted to have something related to business and innovation but we also wanted to add something a little less serious. 4 days later, we thought of the theme "CULTURE PASSIONATELY CRAFTED", it would be a modern and innovative take on traditional aspects of different states of India.

Each group was allotted with one state of India. They were given the freedom to do whatever they want which is business related with a mix of traditional aspects of the given state. Once the states were allotted and the theme was explained properly, the students got to work. The class leaders made sure that they held regular meetings with group leaders to make sure that the group plans were matching the theme. Once the market square plans were made, the class leader would send the ideas to either one of the 3 student coordinators, to be finalized.

Everyday meetings were held between the student coordinators to exchange ideas and communicate all the plans that were sent to them by the class leaders. We spent most of the week arranging the stalls for market square, collecting money from the group leaders for they respected stalls and spent a lot of our time on the field making the layout for market square. Everyday we would report to our teacher Mrs. Wilma Dias, to keep her updated with all our plans for the event.

Students would wait back everyday after college hours to make the decorations and hand made items to be sold at the stalls. The student coordinators and class leaders would also wait back to make the decorations for the rest of the event (excluding stall decorations).

One day before the event, we were in college till late at night making sure all the stalls are up, placing the stall numbers and also putting up all the decoration. The day of the event, the student coordinates were back in college at 6:30am to supervise all the groups decorating they stalls and making sure that everything is ready for the inauguration and that everything on the list is been done. At 9:30am, Market Square was inaugurated and declared open. We were all on are toes till the event was over and the prizes were distributed.

Seeing how much creativity and hard work was put in by all the students to make Market Square an absolute success, is something I will never forget. Being one of the first event's that I have hosted in this college as student coordinate, was an absolute privilege. This was an amazing experience for me and is definitely one of the highlights of my time in this college. It made me realize the important of time management and team work.

OBJECTIVES

The Market Square event was intended to encourage students to showcase their creativity side and prepare them to execute they plans in a short time span. The event aimed to promote teamwork among the students as they worked together. Additionally, the event may have provided an opportunity for students to develop different skills, that will help them for the rest of they life.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Market Square provided a platform for students to showcase their creativity and innovation, promoting a culture of learning beyond the classroom. It helped all the students regardless of they duties in market square to learn different skills like financial planning, event management and marketing. One of the biggest lessons we all learnt was the importance of teamwork. With the limited time frame, there was a lot to be done. Planning this event made me understand the importance of time, and of course planning in advance. Market square helped students show off they creative and innovative side. increase the productivity When planning events like this there should be a proper flow of command to avoid any kind of chaos.

OTHER STUDENT COORDINATES REPORTS

CHIRAG KADAM (TYBCA)

I was a part of the core organizing committee for Market Square, along with Julia And Shawn, I was an Event Leader. During the event I looked after the Logistics and Support consisting of looking after the overall arrangements of tents and other arrangements required for the event. We also planned after the overall execution and predicted the projection of the event. Managing 27 teams with 3 sponsors was also part of the leadership role we took. We made sure that no team is left behind and every team participates with high enthusiasm and morale which was seen during the event day.

SHAWN COUTINHO (SYBBA)

Market square, an event which was held to showcase the talents and innovation of our very own management students through the diversity of states was nothing less than a milestone achieved by us , the market square team. With just a week in hand and a budget gathered from the students , the team pulled off nothing else less than a miracle. Our team which was headed by Julia Henderson and Wilma ma'am assigned leaders and sub leaders along with a teacher to each class and group respectively. There were ups and downs as each time a meeting was held with the head of department and the students the theme was changing which caused a lot of chaos but with one theme finalized 3 days before the event the students really gave their all and made this event a huge success. There were some problems which occurred along the way which taught us more about event management and how to work under pressure.

Few of the learning outcomes were:

- Everyone should be on the same page so as to avoid confusion
- Some fun activities should be conducted with everyone to help release the stress and increase the productivity
- There should be open communication and everyone should be allowed to voice their own opinions
- There should be a proper flow of command to avoid chaos

With everyone getting agitated at the fact of paying for their own stall, there were few fights which occurred but at the end of the day everyone enjoyed and went home laughing with a smile on their face.

REPORTS FROM THE CLASS LEADERS

SARTHAK SHINDE (FYBBA)

On March 3rd 2023, Department of Management is hosting the most awaited event MANIFEST 23 and is presenting MARKET SQUARE with great enthusiasm. In this manifest there were altogether 30 stalls in which 3 stall were given to FYBAA. Every stall was given a particular state as a theme so to make their stall creative & innovative. There were 3 groups of each class with an average of 25 students also group of FYBBA class were representing 3 states, Maharashtra, Punjab & Goa as well.

I was given the opportunity to lead these groups of my class & also my role was a mediator where I conveying the messages/ problems from the students to Department & vice versa. I faced a lot of challenges like biggest was time management for me. This Management event really helped me a lot to handle critical situation as a head coordinator of my class. I also got to interact with new students as well which helped me to work as a team with them. At the end this was a great successful event because the department & students well-coordinated with each other to make this event a good one.

The Christ College Business Fest was certainly one for the ages! Over a hundred students from department across the College assembled to showcase their entrepreneurial skills & business acumen.

MUNTAHA SABUWALA (SYBBA)

Introduction:

The Market Square was an event that required the coordination of different teams to showcase their creativity and innovation. With only one week to plan, the pressure was on to make sure everything was executed smoothly. The theme for the event was culture and innovation, and each group worked hard to come up with ideas that would impress the judges. Despite some internal conflicts, the teams were able to cooperate and put together a wide variety of stalls while accurately depicting their states. On the day of the event, the football field was transformed into a vibrant marketplace, and students from different classes and colleges came to see the various stalls. The groups from SY BBA put up a great show, with two of them winning the top positions. It was a challenging task, but the victories in the end made all the hard work and pain worth it.

Objectives:

The Market Square event was intended to encourage students to showcase their creativity and innovation while promoting the theme of culture and innovation. The event aimed to foster teamwork and collaboration among the students as they worked together to plan and execute their stalls. Additionally, the event may have provided an opportunity for students to develop skills such as project management, marketing, and financial planning while preparing them to execute accurate decisions within a short time span.

About:

On Friday, 24th February, the groups were informed about the Market Square and its theme of Culture incorporated with Innovation. Each member was excited and they began brainstorming immediately. I got a number of mind-blowing ideas from each leader which made it difficult to choose the best option, however we reached a conclusion and I received their proposals for approval the next day. After cross checking with the faculty, I gave them the green flag to begin execution.

The groups would work in class and hold Google Meets after college to discuss about the work to be done on the next day and carry material accordingly. Many of them objected to paying for the stalls but I convinced them saying it is mandatory and they have no choice but to oblige. With thanks to online modes of payment, even those students who have jobs or do not attend college very frequently were able to pay; so no excuses were being tolerated. It was a challenging task to collect money from all the other classes as well given how they were objecting too but being a little stern and making a polite request seemed to convince them without wasting a lot of time.

Each CCMA group had divided its members into committees namely finance, art, marketing and so on. For example, House Gilbert had divided themselves like 3 people for decorations, 3 for serving food, 2 for managing the stall, 2 for marketing, 2 for finance/cashier and the rest helped overall. They decided the raw materials required for making the handicrafts, decorations, models etc. and the costs associated with it. The total cost was divided amongst the group member irrespective of their department or participation in manifest. All the students of SY BBA stayed back after college during the week and worked on their stalls. The night before the event, they went home after 7pm while I stayed back till 9:30 pm. Their creativity and innovation were brought to light during the Market Square as each student worked to the best of their abilities. From arranging their states' traditional attire to making the theme appropriate decorations to making a 3D model, we had covered all the required aspects.

Internally, there was a lot of confusion for control because many members wanted to hold the reins and be in power irrespective of the presence of a leader which was decided by the teachers. There were conflicts in decision-making because of this. Eventually, it was decided that the teammates must cooperate because time was of the essence and these quarrels were taking up a lot of it. House Drucker for instance dissolved all the head positions for their individual departments due to internal issues and worked without internal groups.

On the 3rd of March, the football field looked lively as the colourful stalls and traditional outfits created a euphoric environment. There was excitement in the air as each team came to college at 6 am to prepare their stalls.

Group 1 – Members of House Dupin had the state Himachal Pradesh for which they had a Photo booth with a Polaroid camera priced at Rs.100 per picture for students and Rs.80 for teachers, a 3D model to depict their winning idea of an application which can be beneficial to resolve the issues of emergency vehicles during medical, fire and police emergencies and a game called 'You know You win' which is a test of how well two friends know each other.

The state of Himachal Pradesh produces most of India's apples. More than 90% of Himachal's fruit revenue comes from apple sales. Therefore, they decided to have apple theme decoration. The roof on the inside was decorated with handmade streamers of apples, a Himachal Pradesh banner, apple shape paper cut outs, holy flag of the state, various posters of films shot in Himachal Pradesh, a fresh apple pyramid, etc. and sold fresh Apple juice at Rs25 for half and Rs.30 for full glass. Their group members were dressed in tradition white kurtas with red pants and oxidised jewellery to depict the culture in Himachal Pradesh. They were declared the winners of the Market Square and won a cash prize of Rs. 10,000.

Group 1 – Himachal Pradesh

Group 2 – Gilberts in Gujarat were selling bags imported from Gujarat between Rs. 80 – Rs. 200, oxidised jewellery for Rs. 100 each and typical Gujarati food varieties like Dhokla, Jalebi, Buttermilk and Khakra. They also kept the option of buying all these items in the form of a platter and priced it at a comparatively lesser rate to increase its sales. The team decorated their stall with dandiyas, kites and the girls were dressed in the traditional ghagaras and cholis while the boys wore kurtas. Everything went well and their sales were also satisfactory in both the categories (food and artifacts).

Group 2 - Gujarat

Group 3 – House Drucker went all out on sales. They displayed a wide variety of products for reasonable prices. Coconut water was priced at 20 whereas rose milk was priced at 30. They had DIY products like Bookmarks with chitarra art painted priced at 30, Handmade bands priced at 10, Paper bags at 10, Candles with the essence of sandalwood per box 50, Hand painted pots priced at 30, a Kanjivaram saree just for display not for sale and a few books just for promotion and display from authors like Sudha Murthy, R.K Narayan and Arvind Adaiga. They said that everything was mostly last minute but they pulled it off. The group started setting up the stall by 8 and were done within an hour even though they were dressed in Kanjivaram Sarees while the boys wore Lungis. The stall was decorated with coconut shells, banana leaves and flowers to keep it authentic and fresh. They promoted the authors of Karnataka very well as they prepared a summary of all the books. The customers were enjoying the cold beverages under the hot sun. They pleased the judges with their handmade and labour-intensive craft work and successfully won the 3rd position with a cash prize of Rs. 2500.

Group 3 - Karnataka

My contribution

- Received proposals from group leaders and cross-checked with faculty before giving approval for execution.
- Convinced groups to pay for stalls and collected money from all classes.
- Stayed back after college till 9:30 pm to supervise the work of the groups and make artwork for decoration of the Market Square Entrance.
- Painted the Flex with handprints and other drawings.
- Assisted fellow leaders to hang the decorations.
- Went to purchase stationery and decorations and handled the finances for the same.
- Went to invite various colleges to take part in 'Manifest', an Inter-College Fest.
- Witnessed the creativity and innovation of the students during the Market Square.
- Dealt with internal conflicts and ensured cooperation among teammates.
- Attended the Market Square event and helped with the work of each group during the event.
- Ensured Cleanliness, Discipline and Co-operation during the event.
- Provided su les.

Learning Outcome

The Market Square event had a positive outcome for both the students and the college community as a whole. Firstly, it provided a platform for students to showcase their creativity and innovation, promoting a culture of learning beyond the classroom. Through this event, students were able to develop skills such as project management, marketing, financial planning, and teamwork, which are crucial in real-world scenarios. The event also encouraged students to learn more about different cultures and helped to build bridges between communities.

Moreover, the event created a sense of community within the college by bringing together students from different classes and colleges to participate and support each other's stalls. This helped to break down social barriers and foster a more inclusive and collaborative environment. The event also had a positive economic impact as students sold different products and services, generating revenue for themselves and their respective groups. It also provided a platform for local businesses and artisans to showcase their products and reach a wider audience. Overall, the Market Square event had a significant impact on the students, college, and local community by promoting creativity, innovation, cultural understanding, and economic growth.

Overall Impact

In conclusion, the Market Square event that took place on March 3rd achieved its goals of promoting inventiveness, novelty, teamwork, and financial control among the students. Despite having only one week to plan and execute the event, the SY BBA teams worked assiduously to showcase their respective states' conventional and cultural aspects. Despite facing some inner conflicts and difficulties during the implementation, the students collaborated and set up a lively marketplace on the football field, impressing students from different classes and colleges. House Dupin emerged victorious with their imaginative concepts and artistic stalls. The event furnished a valuable opportunity for the students to hone their skills in project management, advertising, and financial planning while promoting the theme of culture and innovation. All in all, the Market Square event was a triumph, and the students' hard work and commitment made it an unforgettable experience.

Winners: Group 1 – House Dupin

BENITA MATHEW (TYBBA)

I was appointed as the in charge for TYBBA. Every class was divided into three groups. The groups were Owens, Weber and Elton. Team Weber had to represent the state Rajasthan. Team Elton had to represent state Karnataka. Team Owens had to represent the state Odissa. Morning by 7am all team member were present on the ground for decorating their stalls and to help their team. Every member was dressed accordingly to the state they represented. They did put in lots of efforts by making all specialty dishes that are famous in those states. Decorating and working with their theme and following all the guidelines mentioned to them prior.

Every team did put their best foot forward for a successful event the coordination and cooperation among everyone is to be truly appreciate. After the event all team ensured to help to clean up and gathered back to Chavara hall for the valedictory.

All the team leader had an active participation of their team member and did an excellent job. If was a great team work that lead to such a successful event. I being the volunteers was also a participate of the team Weber and our team won the runner's up prize and was rewarded cash prize. It was a pleasure to be a volunteer and work along with such amazing other volunteers as well.

AKANKSHA MENON (FYBBA IB)

Market Square was an event organized by the department of management and all management students took part. Each class was divided in three groups as per their CCMA teams and a class coordinator was appointed. I was appointed as the class coordinator for FYBBA(IB). As the theme for market square was symbolizing the culture and origins of various states, each team was allotted a state at random. FYBBA(IB) had team Owen, Weber and Elton with their respected states, Assam, Karnataka and Punjab. The whole class was excited about the event and active participation was shown by each team. As a coordinator my role was to pass down important messages, clear doubts of the team members and make sure they were working on their ideas. Meetings were held with the individual group leaders to track their progress. This helped the leaders to come up with a solid plan for their stalls and communicate with all the members of the group. Collecting money for tents was a task given to the leaders and making sure they don't face a problem was my responsibility. The ppts were also shared by the leaders which was then shown to the respected class teacher in charge for market square. The ideas were innovative and everyone helped by showing their participation and contributing to this event. I enjoyed my role as a class coordinator and I am grateful to have been given this opportunity.

ZAINAB SHAIKH (SYBBA IB)

The Market Square event was recently organized by our college on 3rd March 2023 and I was honored to be selected as the class coordinator for SYBBA IB. The event was aimed at promoting innovative business ideas among the students and provided a platform for students to showcase their entrepreneurial skills in the form of stalls. As the coordinator, my primary responsibility was to ensure that each group had the necessary resources and support to participate in the event.

GROUP DIVISION-

Each class was divided into three groups and each group was assigned a specific state. Our class was divided as follows-

- Dupins- Kerala
- Druckers- Maharashtra
- Gilbreth- Bengal

As a coordinator, I facilitated communication between the teams and provided guidance on how to prepare for the event. I worked with each group to ensure that they had a clear understanding of their assigned states and the culture and traditions associated with it. I also made sure that there were no conflicts among the group members and each student took part and made them understand the importance of such an event. I also helped in decorating the main entrance of Market Square before the event.

The groups were given a week to prepare for the event, during which they had to come up with an innovative business idea that was relevant to their assigned state. This event provided an excellent platform for students to showcase their entrepreneurial skills as well as for me to showcase my leadership skills. As the class coordinator for SYBBA IB, I am proud of the efforts made by each group. Overall, the event was a great success.

YASH CHOPRA (TYBBA IB)

ON March 3rd 2023, Department of Management held the most awaited event MANIFEST 23 and MARKET SQUARE with great enthusiasm.

In this market square there were altogether 30 stalls in which 3 stall were given to TYBBA IB. Every stall was given a particular state as a theme so to make their stall creative & innovative. There were 3 groups of each class with an average of 25 students also group of TYBBA IB class were representing 3 states, Manipur, Odisha & Goa as well.

I was given the opportunity to lead these groups of my class & also my role was a mediator where I conveying the messages/ problems from the students to Department & vice versa. I faced a lot of challenges like biggest was time management for me.

This Management event really helped me a lot to handle critical situation as a head coordinator of my class. I also got to interact with new students as well which helped me to work as a team with them.

At the end this was a great successful event because the department & students well-coordinated with each other to make this event a good one.

The Christ College Business Fest was certainly one for the ages! Over a hundred students from department across the College assembled to showcase their entrepreneurial skills.

About the International Conference:

An International conference on New Management Trends: Business Leadership Challenges in the changing global economic scenario. Jointly organized by Foresight College of Commerce and Christ College, Pune. A great platform for the upcoming researchers, scholars, academicians to portray their ideas as well as to discuss the revolutionary changes occurring all over the modern business world. This conference aims at providing a platform to collate the research articles by participants through various disciplines such as Marketing, Management, Accounting and Financing, Law, General Management etc.

The international conference held on February 24th and 25th, 2023, was a resounding success, bringing together participants from various regions in India and esteemed international speakers. The event, hosted at Christ College Pune, created a platform for rich academic discussions, cultural exchanges, and networking opportunities.

One of the key factors contributing to the success of the conference was the diverse range of registrations. With 65 participants from all over India and international speakers, the event fostered a vibrant and inclusive atmosphere. This diversity not only enhanced the breadth of knowledge and perspectives shared but also facilitated cross-cultural understanding and collaboration.

The conference kicked off on the first day with a captivating prayer song, setting a positive and contemplative tone for the entire event. The welcome address by Dr. Geetha Rajan N, the conference coordinator, set the stage for the proceedings, outlining the goals and significance of the conference.

The inaugural session featured a remarkable line-up of speakers. Fr. Joy Puthusserry CMI delivered an inspiring inaugural speech, followed by the guest speaker, Dr. Mohd Faheem, who provided insights into the Thai economy. This combination of spirituality, academic discourse, and international perspectives created a dynamic and engaging start to the conference.

The presence of international guest speakers added a valuable global perspective to the conference. Prof. (Dr.) D.M.R. Dissanayake from the University of Kelaniya, Sri Lanka, shared valuable insights into the Sri Lankan tourism industry. Dr. Nishikant Borge's speech on globalization and geopolitical tensions provided an in-depth understanding of the complexities in international relations.

The technical sessions, held on both days, allowed participants to present their research, exchange ideas, and engage in scholarly discussions. These sessions showcased the depth of knowledge and expertise among the attendees, contributing to the academic richness of the conference.

The valedictory session provided an opportunity for reflection and feedback. Dr. Fr. Arun Antony Chully, the Director of Christ College Pune, and Dr. M D Lawrence, the Principal of Foresight College, shared their valuable inputs on the conference. The online and offline feedback from participants further enhanced the learning experience, enabling organizers to gauge the success of the event and identify areas for improvement.

The dedication and hard work of the conference coordinators, faculty members, and organizers played a pivotal role in ensuring the conference's success. Their meticulous planning, attention to detail, and commitment to providing a conducive environment for knowledge exchange and networking deserve recognition.

Conclusion:

The international conference held at Christ College Pune was a resounding success. Through its diverse participation, distinguished speakers, informative technical sessions, and engaging discussions, the event provided a platform for intellectual growth, cultural exchange, and collaboration. The conference served as a catalyst for expanding knowledge, fostering international connections, and inspiring future research endeavours.

Activity Report

About the Activity

General Report:

Mr. Nitin Varghese.

Mr. Nitin Varghese thrown light on Research, any value if it is carried out honestly. We cannot trust the results of a research project if we suspect that the researchers have not acted with integrity. Although it might be easy enough to take short cuts or even to cheat, it really is not worth it. Not only will your research be discredited when you are found out, but you will suffer severe penalties and humiliation. It is a simple matter to follow the clear guidelines in citation that will prevent you being accused of passing off other people's work as your own – called plagiarism. In fact, to refer to or quote other people's work is seen as a virtue, and demonstrates that you have read widely about your subject and are knowledgeable about the most important people and their ideas

Dr. Antony Joseph L

Dr. Antony Joseph discussed on Data Analysis is the process of systematically applying statistical and/or logical techniques to describe and illustrate, condense and recap, and evaluate data. According to Shamoo and Resnik (2003) various analytic procedures "provide a way of drawing inductive inferences from data and distinguishing the signal (the phenomenon of interest) from the noise (statistical fluctuations) present in the data" and discussed various tools such as spss software and others

Dr. Amod Markale

Dr. Amod Markale discussed on various test of hypothesis, like Chi-square test, T test, F test, and accepting and rejecting of hypothesis. Also he talked about small sample test and large sample test with many examples of each test.

Aims & Objectives:

1. To inculcate research culture into faculties and post graduate students.
2. To get hands on for statistical data analysis using various software.
3. To get essential facts about ethical research.

Learning Outcome:

1. Participants will be able to create and inculcate research environment among themselves and students.
2. Participants will be able to do data analysis required for research.
3. Participants will be able to understand ethical research

BARCLAY'S SOFT SKILL TRAINING

Date of the Activity: 31ST JANUARY -3RD FEBRUARY 2023

Activity Co-ordinator: Ms. Deepa Sujith

EDP SOFT SKILL TRAINING BY BARCLAY'S

General Report:

The Soft Skills Training Programme was conducted by the Department of Management for four days from 31/01/23 to 3/02/23 at Christ College Pune for the TY batch of BBA. The Soft Skills Programme is a Barclays project to open doors for at-risk people, such as those who lack confidence and experience, have less formal education, need care, or have disabilities.

Aims & Objectives:

1. The soft skills training program aimed to sharpen students' soft skills so they could use them in interviews and eventually in the workplace.

2. The program helps individuals build the relationships, opportunities, technical skills, and soft skills required to land long-term work across industries.

3. Promoting the students to change their management perspective from a theoretical to a more practical approach.

Learning Outcome:

1. Students learned the use of soft skills through various activities.

2. Students understood how to motivate themselves to take on leadership roles to stand out of the crowd.

3. Students were able to get an insight into how they have to behave in the world of work when they are graduated.

About the Speaker

Mr. Prasant Sonawane is a dedicated corporate and behavioral trainer with Over 6 years of training and coaching work experience across various industries, including BPO, IT, Retails, Real-estate, NGOs, Hospitality, Health & Wellness, and the educational sector. Overall work experience is 14 years. He believes in applying his skills, knowledge, and tools to bring about a transformational change in every opportunity sector. He believes that in helping individuals in grooming and fostering new skills and competencies is, in turn, to explore new horizons in the broader pedagogy of L&D and the coaching sector.

Ms. Snehal Rede has 9+ years of experience in international business, and 3 years as a trainer and administrator for skill development (NSDC) She is presently heading a Department of Vocational Studies offering a Degree in Retail Marketing affiliated to University and Sector Skill Council of India. She has also been certified in Management and Entrepreneurship and Professional Skills Council (MEPSC) and Skill India. She believes in planned and collaborated teamwork and is a proficient trainer in Motivational Leadership Styles, time management, and Interpersonal Skills.

Training Summary

issues and problems. To better illustrate the subject, he set up an assignment in which each group of students had to select one of five departments, such as marketing, and research that department's purpose, goal, obstacles, and solutions. This practise encouraged interpersonal understanding, problem-solving skills, teamwork, and cooperation.

DAY 1- Introduction and Organizational structure

The ice-breaker activity was the focus of the first day. The trainer encouraged the students to introduce themselves by stating their name, its meaning, and the adjective that best describes them. The trainer explains the different organizational levels and how each department has distinct functions and responsibilities as well as varied approaches to dealing with employee

DAY 2- SWOT Analysis and goal setting

SWOT analysis are not only performed for businesses; they may also be performed for individuals. Strength, Weakness, Opportunity and Threat (SWOT) analysis performed on oneself can help a person develop their personality, channel their strengths in the right directions, work on their weaknesses, and find opportunities and threats. The instructor guided the students through a SWOT analysis and encouraged them to define a goal while keeping in mind the earlier analysis. This was done to introduce the concept of SMART goals, which stands for Specific, Measurable, Attainable, and Time-bound. This topic is a description of one's aim, outlining what needs to be done, how it will be done, when it has to be done, and if it is really doable or not.

DAY 3- Resume building, Public speaking and Organizational etiquette

On the third day, the trainer offered advice on how to write an appealing CV as well as what should be included. Information about public speaking, understanding its significance, and developing stage bravery are also covered in this class. We used situations to teach students soft skills. We received advice on how to boost our self-assurance and communication abilities. Additionally, we studied organizational etiquette, in which we discovered the dos and don'ts that should be followed to preserve the organization's decorum. We participated in a role-playing exercise to better understand organization etiquette. Each group was given a different role to play, and we all acted out various situations like cafeteria, lift, office bus etc. in the organization

DAY 4- Body language, Interview questions and Group discussion

Students learned about body language, interview questions, and group discussions on the fourth day. When doing interviews, presentations, or group discussions, our trainer goes over the proper body language to use. The students learned about appropriate interview etiquette throughout the interview session. Details about advice and instructions for HR interviews were also covered. Several frequently asked questions and their useful responses were covered. Additionally, the trainer covered the definition of group discussion, how to participate, and dos and don'ts in group discussions. Following the presentation of these suggestions, the class was divided into groups and given an immediate topic. Each group was given one minute to think before starting a discussion. The pupils' speaking, listening, and thinking abilities all improved as a result of this practise.

REPORT FOR DIGITAL TOOLS FOR RESEARCH SEMINAR
DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCE
11th DECEMBER 2022
Attended By: TYBSc (CS) and MSc (CS) students.
Organized By: Christ College, Pune

About the Activity:

General Report:

Research is a process to discover new knowledge.

The objective of research is to "extend human knowledge of the physical, biological, or socialworld beyond what is already known." Research is different than other forms of discovering knowledge (like reading a book) because it uses a systematic process called the Scientific Method.

No matter what topic is being studied, the value of the research depends on how well it is designed and done. Therefore, one of the most important considerations in doing good research is to follow the design or plan that is developed by an experienced researcher who iscalled the Principal Investigator.

Aims & Objectives:

1. Investigate and analyse the range of digital tools available for various stages of theresearch process.

2. Evaluate how the adoption of digital tools has influenced research methodologies,efficiency, and outcomes.

3. Offer insights and recommendations to researchers on selecting and effectively using digital tools.

Learning Outcome:

1. Students Came to know about various digital tools available for research.

2. Students came to know about how to use those digital tools for enhancing their research.

3. Conclude with practical recommendations for researchers on the selection and utilizationof digital tools

Activity Report

On 3 rd December , so as to be adaptation throughout these associate attempting times to develop an entrepreneurship culture in Christ College Pune, 'NIRMITI- Startup and Innovation Centre' organized a workshop on 'Entrepreneurship – DEVELOPMENT OF ENTREPRENEURS' for the commerce, Arts, Science and management departments. The session was terribly interactive and interesting. The guest speaker for the session was Dr. Samadhan Nikumbh. The aim of this session was to create the peers' perception regarding the thought of entrepreneurship. He started off by asking inquiries to make the session interactive and fun. He asked queries like the distinction between businessmen and entrepreneurs. In a while he explained the thought of entrepreneurship briefly, meaning, types, skills needed to achieve success as an entrepreneur, and so forth.
Half of the session was strictly supported activities wherever he commands, his pen high and told the students to be inventive and convey their own concepts and modify the shown pen. Through this it helped the students to analyze their innovative skills and interest for entrepreneurship. By the tip of this glorious session, it absolutely was clear to the students regarding the concepts and also the skills required to be an entrepreneur.

Aims & Objectives:

1. To Develop Entrepreneurial qualities and habits among the upcoming youth.
2. Motivating and guiding students for launching their own new businesses and start-ups.

Activity Outcome:

The total number of 304 participants from all the first year students of Arts, Science and Commerce are benefited from the session and got awareness of entrepreneurship

Industry Expectations from Graduates

General Report

Department of Management, in association with Christ College Pune, organized a corporate talk on Industry Expectations from graduates on 08th October 2022 for the students of SY & TY BBA (IB)

The resource person for the session was Mr. Sudarshan Sharad Nasery, Business Development/Sales and Marketing Manager -Thyssenkrupp Industries India Pune.

Through this session, the students were able to get an insight into what is expected from the students by the industry. These are the areas the students should develop, like personality, Intellectual, communicative Strength, and accomplishments. The speaker also emphasized what we can learn from our failures and the skills the students lack while entering the corporate world. The session was very interactive, and the students understood the importance of bridge courses and the knowledge they should acquire to match the industry's expectations.

Aims & Objectives:

1. To encourage students to embrace Diversity, Team dynamics, and Team playing.
2. To get knowledge on work culture and work ethics in the organization.
3. To develop an understanding of the academic and corporate sectors.

Learning Outcome:

1. Students will be able to learn the work culture environment and the different roles in the organization.
2. Students will clearly understand how Industry changes have forced talent acquisition to be dramatically different in the new era of the business landscape.
3. Students will become industry-ready cause industry requires a different breed of talent in every length & breadth of the business.
